

CIN Legal Data Services Releases a New Version of its Due Diligence Portal for Your Clients

All Clients of Participating Attorneys Can Now Access CIN Online With Ease, Regardless of Products Ordered...

In an effort to provide clients of CIN Legal Data Services' participating law firms with a more comprehensive due diligence experience, CIN Legal Data Services has released a new version of its Due Diligence Portal for Consumers. Constructed with the goal of building an easier to navigate web-application, the new version of the company's Due Diligence Portal for Consumers provides clients of attorneys with an easy-to-utilize, centralized web application where they may complete required counseling courses and review all products and services ordered by their counsel.

CIN Legal Data Service's new Due Diligence Portal for Consumers further provides an easy means by which all clients of participating attorneys can log into the site. Now when attorneys refer their clients to www.cinlegal.com, to access the consumer portal, clients who do not know their user name or password may simply complete the identity authentication & password creation module located at the site to garner immediate & secure access to the application. Through the easy-to-use authentication module, all clients of participating attorneys may garner access without having to rely on their attorney for username and / or password information.

Finally, the new version of the Due Diligence Portal for Consumers may be private-labeled to reflect the firm's name and brand as more than 200 firms have done since this feature's initial announcement. To find out more about this new feature, or to private-label the application with your firm's brand, please contact a CIN Legal Data Services Account Manager at 866-218-1003.
